I am running Visual Studio 2013 v11.0.60610.01 Update 3 on Windows 7 Professional x64 and have just upgraded to ASP.NET 5 RC1. My problem is as follows. I can open any other solution in Visual Studio - I can edit files, build and run them fine. However, when loading one of my solutions (which is built in Visual Studio 2010), Visual Studio crashes

when it gets to my solution level. I have attached a screenshot which shows this. The solution which I am trying to open is v10.0.30319.1 of the following source: I have also reproduced this problem in VS 2013 Update 2, so it is not an issue with the code. Before I file a report with Microsoft, I wanted to check if anyone else has experienced this. A: I found the problem, and resolved it. I was using the Production Version of the AspNet.Security.OpenIdConnect package. Upon having the build server build my solution using the Development Version, the problem disappeared. Moral of the story: Always use the Development Version of packages if you want to get them working. A: Totally forgot about the 50b96ab0b6
